Mac Mini Vault goes live with a third Mac mini colocation cabinet, offers discounted promotional pricing.

Franklin, WI August 20, 2012 – Mac Mini Vault announces its third Mac mini colcation cabinet has gone online, increasing the current capacity to over 400 Mac minis.

Mac Mini Vault's customized 48U APC NetShelter cabinets are configured to host up to 140 Mac Minis. The Mac Minis are held in slots on specially designed shelves that slide out allowing for complete access of the ports and power buttons. Each slot is wired for power and network connectivity. Each cabinet is equipped with six APC switched PDUs (Power Distribution Units) that allow for remote power cycling of individual Mac Minis. The power to each PDU is supplied by an APC UPS and backed up by Generac generators. The network connection is tied to a stack of Cisco Gigabit Switches which in turn have redundant fiber connections to the data center's 10G backbone network.

To celebrate this achievement Mac Mini Vault is offering its colocation services at unheard of discounted levels. New and existing customers that place an order for Enterprise colocation service between August 20th, 2012 and August 31st, 2012 and use the promotional code 'MMV-5for6' will receive colocation service for $5.00USD per month for six (6) months. This is a 90% discount from the standard $49.99USD monthly cost. Customers can ship their Mac mini to Mac Mini Vault or purchase one directly from Mac Mini Vault for quick deployment. There are no contracts or commitments as a part of this promotion. Customers may downgrade or cancel at any point.

The Mac mini Enterprise colocation service includes premium features such as remote reboot control, network interface graphing, free hands-on support hours, free MAMP PRO web hosting software, as well as an unmetered gigabit network connection. Signing up for colocation is simple and easy, visit www.macminivault.com for more information and to place an order.
